AI & Data Science Student | Android & Full-Stack Developer

SM

PROFILE

B.Tech AI & Data Science student who builds and ships Android and web products. Hands-on experience with Flutter, React, Supabase and LLM integration, including an open-source habit tracker and a deployed AI interview platform co-built for the IBM Bob 2.0 Hackathon.

SELECTED PROJECTS

TrackMe | Open-source Android habit tracker

Flutter · Hive · Supabase · Android widgets

github.com/subasmk/Trackme

- Built a gamified habit and learning tracker with quests, subtasks, streaks and a sloth mascot that responds to progress.
- Added home-screen widgets for quick check-ins and a Supabase-backed social layer with profiles, friend requests and username search.
- Shipped v3.0 with a bring-your-own-key AI assistant that drafts quests and daily goals from text or voice for users to review before saving.

MockMentor | AI mock-interview platform

React · Vite · Vercel · OpenRouter · face-api.js · Web Speech API

mock-mentor-taupe.vercel.app | IBM Bob 2.0 Hackathon

- Co-built and deployed a resume-based interview platform within the hackathon window, with role-specific questions, voice responses and animated interviewers.
- Integrated LLM question generation and answer evaluation through Vercel serverless routes, keeping API keys server-side with automatic model fallback.
- Combined browser speech recognition and synthesis with webcam expression tracking; provided answer ratings and communication feedback.
